

Meet just a few of our nearly 200 contributors from Seattle and around the world.

Get in touch

Sarah Stuteville - Co-founder
sarah@seattleglobalist.com
206-403-3931

Jessica Partnow - Co-founder jessica@seattleglobalist.com
206-403-3932

SeattleGlobalist.com

It's where Seattle...

the seattle
globalist

...meets the World.

What We Do

Our mission is to elevate diverse voices through media.

The Seattle Globalist is a daily "hyperglobal" publication covering the connections between Seattle and the rest of the globe.

We host regular community events, including journalism workshops; happy hours; travel slideshows, and more!

Who We Serve

In 2013 over 350,000 people visited SeattleGlobalist.com. Fifty-eight percent of our viewers are aged 25-44.

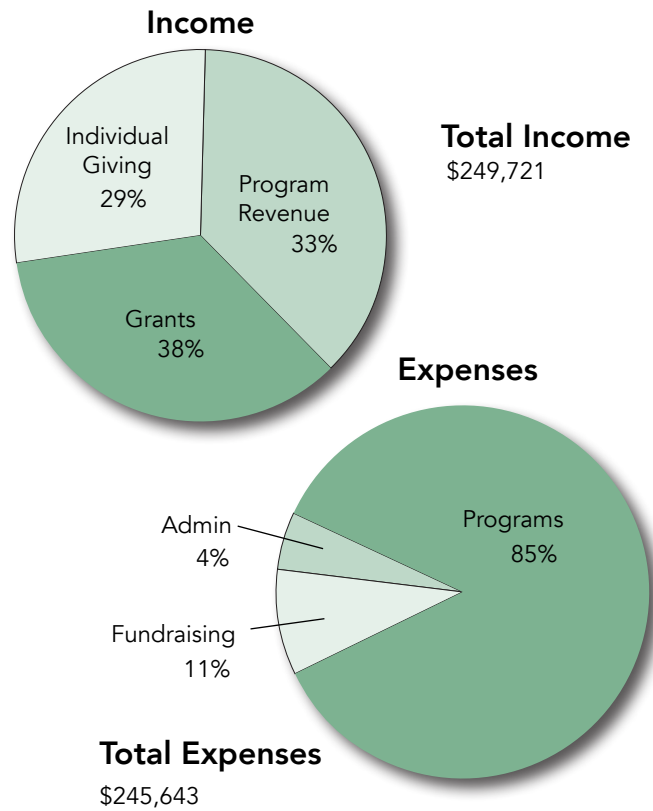

Each year several young people from underserved communities join our Globalist Youth Apprenticeship program, working closely with a professional journalism mentor and producing stories for the Seattle Globalist.

We work with close to 200 contributors, both professional and citizen reporters, including development workers, community organizers, students, immigrants, refugees and artists.

2013 in Review

- Published 500 stories by diverse contributors—in the Pacific Northwest and on every continent (except Antarctica!)
- Syndicated stories to The Seattle Times, Al Jazeera English, KUOW, Huffington Post and others.
- Offered inaugural year of advanced journalism apprenticeship program.
- Published four in-depth international reporting projects from Indonesia, Kenya, Mexico and the Former Soviet Union.
- Premiered our first feature-length documentary, "BARZAN," which played at more than a dozen film festivals worldwide.

2013 Finances

Cover Photos: Top photo from "May Day marchers turn out in force to sway immigration reform." Bottom photo from "Generation Putin: Young people and change in the Former Soviet Union."